- 3) Reviewed monthly cash receipt and cash disbursement ledgers: If the ledgers did not exist, transaction activities were compiled by totaling cash receipt records and reviewing the check register for cash disbursements.
- 4) Completed a cash receipt ledger template: The ledger was designed to identify funds, which may have been received but not deposited. Performed research as necessary.
- 5) Performed a cash count: All cash on hand waiting to be deposited, as of the audit date, was counted under dual control by a field auditor and witnessed by a school official. The count did not include sealed cash for lunchroom deposits.
- 6) Compiled financial data via bank reconciliation templates: Reviewed reconciliations completed by the schools to identify banking irregularities and reconciling items outstanding for an extended period of time. Confirmed bank reconciliations were completed as reported to the Office of Central Accounting.

MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Management Response provided by Ms. Tia' Von Moore-Patton, Principal.

Good Morning, As requested I am submitting explanations to the findings from the audit done at Johnson McKinney Day Treatment.

1. The August 2008- December 2008 bank reconciliation wasn't completed when the auditor came due to our building being just moved and we hadn't received mail because of the move, so we had the bank fax the statement because they wouldn't mail them again). - However; We did receive them via fax from Comerica and they were subsequently given to Mr.Rashawn Johnson

2. Safeguarding of checks- The building that we moved into does not have a safe, therefore we locked the checks in the desk that the secretary and myself only have a key. It is not the school principal responsibility for safes it is the school district. If you need further information please email me. I am no longer at Johnson McKinney.
