@ Detroit Children's Museum

6134 Second Avenue, Detroit, MI 48202

(Corner of Amsterdam and Second; a few blocks South of the Fisher Building)

DPS FAMILY SATURDAY

December 5, 2015

The Theme for this Event:

'Winter Solstice Celebrations!'

Reminder: The 43rd annual Noel Night is tonight in Midtown Detroit, just blocks away from the Detroit Children's Museum!

During our DPS Family Saturday, families will have the opportunity to:

- Explore our gallery and learn about our beautiful artifacts.
- Construct a science make and take that explains the winter solstice.
- Create their own 'Longest Night-Story Light.'
- Investigate how to make a snow globe out of recycled materials.
- Learn about the constellations of the winter solstice during a planetarium show.
- Participate in a 'Poetry Slam.'

MARK YOUR CALENDARS! Please join us for the other DPS Family Events scheduled for this school year!

January 23, 2016 Theme: 'What Makes the Motor City Move?'

February 27, 2016 Theme: 'Walk Like an Egyptian'

April 23, 2016 Theme: 'Showing the Spirit of Detroit'

May 21, 2016 Theme: 'Water Festival'

All of these events and activities are FREE to DPS families ONLY. Children must be chaperoned by an adult.

We look forward to seeing you soon at YOUR Detroit Children's Museum!
